Vadym Mochalin
Associate Professor
Chemistry

Dear Dr. Mochalin,

I am writing to commend you for participation in the Association of College and University Educators' (ACUE) Course in Effective Teaching Practices at Missouri University of Science and Technology. You deserve recognition for taking on the challenge of a more sustained and comprehensive professional development opportunity.

Completing this year-long course goes well beyond attending a typical workshop or learning community. It takes willingness to seek continuous improvement of your teaching practice and dedication to helping students succeed. Completion of the ACUE course leads to a Certificate in Effective College Instruction, endorsed by the American Council on Education.

Thank you for your commitment to enhancing the student learning experience at Missouri S&T.

Sincerely,
